

This document outlines the list of open Technology Education positions in the state of Maryland. Any individual wishing to pursue a teaching position in Technology Education in the state of Maryland should contact the local school system leaders within this document. Each local school system leader will be able to clarify the position description and confirm its availability. As there continues to be a shortage of Technology Education teachers in Maryland, we are encouraging the use of this document to assist in filling vacancies. As a means of recruiting new teachers, this document will be shared with potential graduates from post-secondary institutions with a Technology Education teacher preparation program as well as the Technology and Engineering Educators Association of Maryland (TEEAM) and the International Technology and Engineering Educators Association (ITEEA).
